ALLIES EAR CANDLES

My successful manufacturing of Allies Ear Candles started with needing to help my children's tonsil and adenoid problems, when doctors decided the only way to prevent recurring infections was surgery. When my grandchildren showed similar signs, I decided another generation of my family was not going to go through the anguish I had. I was impressed by seeing ear candles demonstrated. So I studied the mechanics of the ear, nose and throat, and concluded that the process had to work on the specific scientific principles of convection air flow and osmosis. Allies Therapy has been manufacturing Allies Ear Candles for 15 years, successfully supplying health food stores, chemists and therapists in Australia and overseas.

HAVE YOU BEEN JOYAd TODAY?

As a fan of massage I felt blessed when I was introduced to JOYA Gemstone Massage Rollers years ago in Germany. With these handy and effective tools, I can even massage my neck and shoulders easily. Massaging loved ones became effortless and fun. JOYA is a Spanish word for treasure and when I came to Australia I brought these treasures with me to share the experience with you. Since 2007 many Australians have been falling in love with JOYA at first touch as I did. With JOYA everybody can massage – everywhere and any time, from head to toe. Operating on the idea of freely rotating crystal-spheres, they create an entirely new massage experience! Practitioners spoil their clients with our JOYA professional range.

UNLEASH THE POWER OF YOUR AUTHENTIC SOUL VOICE

The human voice is the most powerful tool available for the healing of humanity and a shift in consciousness. Every word we speak carries the tone of our sound as an instrument of communication and healing. Understanding how to tune and use this instrument effectively shifts not only our own consciousness, but also the consciousness of those who receive (hear) our sounds.

Humans are resonant beings. Our cells are vibrational energy. Through various Soul Voice techniques you learn step by step to unravel deeper and deeper layers of the cellular memory. You use the power of focused intention, your innate faith and sound healing to move cellular structures. You also learn to access the primordial energy through sound frequencies, which will bring you in contact with your original sound language, a place where everything begins and exists. It is from that place you become in resonant contact with the very core of your being & your vibrational blueprint.

The Soul Voice introductory weekend workshop is an invitation to dive deeper into the voice you may have forgotten but your soul remembers. Break open your limitations with sound; become a vibrational instrument and feel the joys of free expression. Discover your voice's unique spiritual resonance, healing abilities, and ancient knowingness. Strengthen your listening, singing & communication skills. Come fully and completely into your core essence.
